

Good morning Mr. Giles,

Thank you for your emails to Chief Constable Sanford.

On his behalf I have passed your request to the Head of Professional Standards for their review.

They have provided me with copies of the reviews that we have already considered in the past as well as the responses from the IPCC, IOPC and OPCC when you have appealed the Constabularies decision not to proceed.

They do not see that there is anything new in your email that would alter these decision so I'm sorry to say the decision still stands and we will not be reopening your case.

With kind regards

Sophie
